

REMEMBERING
James Michael Mogan
February 20, 1953 - July 7, 2019

A face and a personality that has been here in Powell River since 1993 has left us. James Mogan was well known for his huge smile, his immense talents with computers and technology, and his own particular way of showing that he cared.

Although he struggled lifelong with depression and Asperger's Syndrome, it was often a solitary battle with immense odds. Ultimately, he lost the fight in spite of many efforts to find help and support.

At times he felt alone in the world, but those who knew him well also knew that many people cared deeply for him, as he did for them.

James loved reading, he loved arguing politics with anyone who would engage. Many of the simple pleasures of life were important to him. He charted his own course.

James was born in Sarnia, Ontario in 1953. He was married to Stacy for 17 years. He is survived by a daughter, Kathe, in Ontario and two sisters, two brothers, and his stepson, Andrew.
