

REMEMBERING
Michael Alan Friedman

November 18, 1942 - September 5, 2014

"Oh my God!" Michael passed away at home after a heroic battle with cancer. He was an accomplished artist and chef, a lover of theatre and films—indeed of all things creative. He was strongly opinionated with a brusque sense of humour that kept him laughing as long as he was able.

An extraordinary and memorable character, Michael will be deeply missed by his many friends. He is survived by his sister Judith, his children Joshua, Jennifer and Jonathan, his many grandchildren and his ex-wife and good friend Linda.
