Tribute from Frank Shedden

Relation: Long time friend

My thoughts are with Pete's family and friends. I was lucky enough to have Pete as a fishing partner, bridge partner and friend for 35 years. During my visits to Pete while he was in hospital in Vancouver and just before he went into the hospital in Powell River for the last time, we had long conversations of the good times when we fished both locally and up the coast. We sat on his deck looking over the ocean at the most beautiful beach in Powell River and reminisced of crabbing and prawning ventures.

We also talked of family and many friends that were helping him during his illness. He expressed his good fortune to have so many people offering their assistance and his luck at having so many good friends. He will be missed
